Judges: Russell Cody, Caroline Mooney, Debbie Lauritz. Assoc: Adam Walls. A good class of well made wines with very few faults. Major negatives with non-award wines were they lacked intensity and were a little insipid but not faulty. Gold winners had great fruit intensity, measured use of oak and good winemaker artefact. Many wines need more time in the bottle to open up and reach full potential- hopefully by 2019 they will be better and more flavoursome.

Judges: Russell Cody, Caroline Mooney, Debbie Lauritz. Assoc: Adam Walls. Good class with the 2014 getting up to be the top Gold. This wine is in it's best place at present with the fruit, oak and bottle age all marrying together nicely. Other award winners were flavoursome but just lacked the extra dash of finesse to grab a Gold medal. Non-award winners major faults were that the wines were looking tired or sweet. Remember sugar does not equal fruit.
